

S1.9 Example Photo Survey

Having a set of photos of the grounds, and all the spaces within, could be useful later in the award scheme. For instance annotating photographs can be a great way of showing what you discover from your investigation or what you would like to see happen as part of Your space, your way.

In the longer term they will provide the school with a valuable record of how things are NOW.
